LBJ Terms Reserve Changes 'Prudent'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the plan to abolish the Army Reserve is "prudent and wise."

The Reserve Officers Association disagrees and demands a thorough investigation of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's plan to do away with the Reserves by merging some units into the National Guard and placing the rest on inactive status. The association said the Air Force Reserve will be the next to go.

McNamara's proposal — aimed at saving $150 million yearly by abolishing units which the defense secretary says are no longer needed — faces some stiff opposition on Capitol Hill. Congress has control over such proposals at least to the extent of providing money to carry them out.

Plans involving Army National Guard changes also are under discussion. Secretary of the Army Stephen Allen said Sunday night that current planning concepts call for the six high-priority and two special-purpose divisions of the Guard to be converted into a division base and one brigade. But he said this was a concept "and not a firm plan," to be considered by the Army in conjunction with Reserve and National Guard authorities.

Some congressional criticism on the Reserve plan has been sharp and two congressional inquiries have already been promised in the wake of Saturday's announcement by McNamara.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., of the House Armed Services subcommittee on the Reserves and National Guard, said McNamara "demonstrated his contempt for Congress" by issuing the plan.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee, said he'll do his utmost to maintain the Reserve force and expressed the belief Congress must approve the plan before it can go into effect.

Both men said their subcommittees will hold hearings on the plan next year but no dates were set.

Johnson's public endorsement of McNamara's decision was disclosed in an exchange of letters with Rear Adm. Edgar G. Reeder, Reserve Officers Association president, who had asked Johnson to reverse it.

The President's reply was dated Dec. 12 and made public by the ROA Sunday. It read in part:

"I am sure you share my belief in economy in government and maximum combat readiness for our forces, and I know that you will agree — when you are fully acquainted with the nature of the realignment — that this move is both prudent and wise."

State Traffic Deaths Headed For New Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota's 1964 traffic death toll climbed to 789 today, with the state apparently headed for a new record of highway deaths. The record, set last year, was 801.

Mrs. Edna Hammer, 50, a Blooming Prairie school teacher, died in an Austin hospital today of injuries suffered in a car-truck crash Saturday in Freeborn County, three miles northwest of Corning, Minn.

David Richard Kloempken, 26, Hector, Minn., died overnight in a Minneapolis hospital of injuries suffered Friday when his car rolled over on Highway 4 south of Hector.

Ten persons died Saturday, one of the worst single days of the year. Victims included:

Mrs. Julia S. Rottum, 73, St. Paul, dead of injuries received a month earlier when hit by a car.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brzant, both about 49, of Waseca, killed in a Minneapolis collision late Saturday.

Donald Sletton, 30, rural St. Paul, fatally injured in collision at Highways 100 and 494.

Mr. and Mrs. Tomes K. Haukebo, 75, and 68, of Underwood, killed in a collision south of Battle Lake.

Larry G. Eden, 20, Detroit Lakes, killed when his grain truck smashed into a ditch near Audubon, suffocating him under tons of wheat.

Royce Roy, 7, Minneapolis, killed as he apparently tried to hop on the rear of an oil truck.

Mrs. Norma C. Johnson, 45, Grand Meadow, killed in a collision near Grand Meadow.

Elmer Hageland, 50, Minneapolis, killed in another Minneapolis collision.

Teenagers Take Over

All that stands between some couples and a home of their own is a popular teenage daughter. . . . Apparently the only guaranteed annual wage is something called alimony. . . . This is the month when the Christmas Club you did not join in January sends you an empty envelope. . . . Reading that Defense Sec'y McNamara will shut up everything that's surplus or obsolete, a Broadwayite sighed, "Well, there goes my wife!" . . . It's been so cold in New York that women are wearing their minks for warmth instead of for admiring glances.

No Rail Strike Until After Jan. 1

CHICAGO (AP)—Three shop craft unions made known today there will not be any nationwide railroad strike until after Jan. 1.

Alex Elson, lawyer for the Machinists, Electric Workers and Sheet Metal Workers unions, made the announcement in U.S. District Court.

Elson told Judge Joseph Sam Perry he had been authorized to state there "will not be a strike until after the first of the year."

Paratroop Plane Crashes

2 Americans, 36 Vietnamese Killed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Two Americans and 36 Vietnamese soldiers killed in the crash of a paratroop transport plane are reliably reported to have been training for operations against the Communists outside South Viet Nam.

The two American deaths and that of another U.S. serviceman in a ground action against the Viet Cong Sunday brought to 236 the number of Americans killed in combat in South Viet Nam since December 1961.

Another U.S. serviceman was presumed drowned when he disappeared Sunday while crossing a river near the Laotian border. It was not known whether he was taking part in a combat operation.

The C123 paratroop plane crashed into a mountain Friday night after taking off from Da Nang airport, 90 miles south of Communist North Viet Nam. The crash was kept secret for two days.

U.S. officials identified the dead Americans as Maj. Woodrow W. Vaden of Clarksville, Tenn., and Sgt. I.C. Dominick Sansone of Wolcott, Conn.

The officials would make no comment on the crash. However, highly reliable sources said the troops were training for commando action outside Viet Nam, presumably in North Viet Nam or against Viet Cong supply trails through neighboring Laos.

The flight had a number of unusual aspects. The Americans, who were Special Forces advisers, and 30 Vietnamese Special Forces troops were wearing parachutes for a night jump, an unusual operation in the anti-guerrilla warfare here. The plane carried a crew of six instead of the usual three, and the additional three were all radio navigators, suggesting a flight over enemy territory. In addition, Vietnamese pilots were flying the plane. U.S. airmen normally fly C123s in South Viet Nam.

The American enlisted man killed in ground action was with an armored column that was attacked 25 miles south of the North Vietnamese border. A U.S. spokesman said 11 Vietnamese soldiers were killed in the engagement, 39 were wounded and 17 Viet Cong bodies were found.

Goldwater Names 'Big 4' For GOP Race in 1968

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater pointed today to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Govs. Mark O. Hatfield, George Romney and William W. Scranton as potential contenders for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

He said he thinks that as of now Nixon "has the biggest hand on the wheel."

For himself, the beaten GOP nominee shunned the role of national party leader and ruled out another race for the White House. He said he will be "a working member" of the party.

Goldwater, in a copyright interview with U.S. News & World Report, defended GOP National Chairman Dean Burch, insisted his landslide loss to President Johnson did not cripple the conservative movement and declared his presidential bid was over before it really began.

He said only former President Dwight D. Eisenhower could have beaten Johnson for the Republicans.

"Frankly," he said, "I think that I was beaten July 15." That was the day the Republican National Convention nominated him for the White House.

Goldwater said the whole campaign "was run on fear of me," and that fear was planted before he was nominated.

The Arizona senator said his Republican challengers painted "a caricature of Goldwater," depicting him as a trigger-happy man and a foe of the Social Security system.

"This thing started in the primaries — and, try as I would, it could not be erased," he said.

"The only thing that I think might have been done could have been done by those in the Republican party who first started it," he said.

Goldwater blamed Romney and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller — "not Scranton so much because Scranton pitched in." The Pennsylvania governor campaigned for the national ticket.

Goldwater said no Republican who was mentioned for the nomination during the primary days could have beaten Johnson. "I don't know of any other one that could have gotten as many states as I got," he said. Goldwater carried six.

2 Doctors on 'Hate List' Saved by Luck

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. — A dinner date and late working hours may have saved the lives of two Eau Claire psychiatrists Friday night, authorities revealed Saturday after a 56-year-old prominent attorney shot and killed a lawyer representing his wife in a divorce action, then wounded his wife and killed himself.

Sheriff Lloyd Thompson said Frank E. Yates carried a "hate list" in his pocket on which was written the names of Kenneth L. Sigl, 37, a member of a law firm hired by Yates' wife when she began a divorce action recently, and two psychiatrists.

Sigl was host to Yates at 8 p.m. Friday after Yates came to his home. Police said Yates then went to the home he had formerly shared with his wife, and shot her in the arm before shooting himself in the head.

Sheriff Thompson said Saturday, Dr. Albert Lorenz, who lives about a block from the Sigl home on the west side of Eau Claire in the town of Union, told him that he had found fresh footprints near his home after returning from a dinner date.

Dr. Lorenz and his office partner, Dr. Edward Brausseau, who lives about a block away, were the other two men whose names were on Yates' list, the sheriff said. He said Yates "hated the guts" of the three men.

High Court Acts in Atlanta, Birmingham

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld the public accommodations section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act today in a case involving the Heart of Atlanta Motel.

The tribunal ruled in the Atlanta action as the first case on that section of the new law.

The court also upheld the public accommodations section applied to a Birmingham, Ala., restaurant.

Justice Tom C. Clark delivered the court's main opinion.

Moreton Rolleston Jr., Atlanta attorney and an official of the motel corporation, filed suit in U.S. District Court in Atlanta to block enforcement of the law within two hours after it was signed by President Johnson on July 2.

Three judges in the district court upheld the public accommodations section in a July 21 ruling and Rolleston appealed to the highest tribunal. The Supreme Court heard arguments on the appeal on the first day of its new term, Oct. 5. Usually no arguments are heard on opening day, but the issue was given a hurried hearing.

Rolleston argued his own appeal before the Supreme Court. "The fact that Negroes are involved in this issue is purely incidental," he told the justices. "The fundamental issue is whether Congress has the right to take away from a private business concern the owner's choice of running his firm as he wishes and choosing his customers."

Solicitor General Archibald Cox, arguing in opposition to Rolleston, said Congress properly outlawed racial discrimination under its power to regulate interstate commerce. Cox contended this power enabled Congress to regulate local activity too.

Any argument that the new law was to relieve a burden on interstate commerce, said Rolleston, "is so much hogwash." He related that since an injunction against discrimination at the motel was issued in August there were only three requests by Negroes for lodging.

Decision Frees 3 Demonstrators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today the new Civil Rights Act requires dismissal of charges made against sit-in demonstrators before the act was passed.

The decision, announced by Justice Tom C. Clark, freed three Negro demonstrators specifically involved in appeals. The court was told, during argument of the appeals by the three, that about 3,000 criminal prosecutions for sit-in demonstrations were still pending in Southern states.

Rusk Talks With French About NATO

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk scheduled a busy round of conferences with France's top officials today in advance of the North Atlantic Alliance's annual ministerial conference.

The American secretary was to confer with Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, Premier Georges Pompidou and President Charles de Gaulle.

Later in the afternoon Rusk was to review U.S.-West German relations with West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schröder.

Tonight he and Schröder were to join Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker for dinner and discussion of the situation in Germany and Berlin.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization's annual year-end conference of ministers opens Tuesday.

Rusk on his arrival Sunday again tried to counter de Gaulle's contention that the United States will not risk a nuclear war to protect Western Europe from Communist aggression.

Two-Day Fog Over East Lifts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dense gray fog lifted from the East Coast's metropolitan areas early today after a two-day siege which scrambled plans for thousands of air and highway travelers.

The fog was dissipated by an eastward-pressing cold front which extended from New York to Florida. It was marked by a line of showers and drizzle.

Far to the west, a new cold thrust sent the mercury below zero in North Dakota. Weather Bureau meteorologists said this was the van of a vast bitter-cold mass which brought temperatures as severe as 50 below zero over interior Alaska and the Yukon.

Along the east slope of the Rockies, ahead of the cold, winds buffeted Laramie, Wyo., with gusts up to 63 miles an hour Sunday night.

The fog which clamped down on airports in the New York area and canceled jet airliner flights, also hampered air travel and interrupted operations at other coastal air terminals for varying periods.

It stopped traffic for 16 hours from Saturday night to Sunday afternoon on the entire 118-mile length of the New Jersey Turnpike. On the Pennsylvania Turnpike, the speed limit was cut to 35 miles an hour. One man, unable to see where he was going, drove his car into a shallow inlet of the Delaware River at Philadelphia. He waded to safety.

The odyssey of 132 Pan American Airways passengers trying to reach New York from Paris was an eloquent example of the frustrations of traveling. Their plane detoured to Montreal, Detroit and Boston, before they finally reached New York — by bus and train, and 24 hours late.

Bendix Near Death From Pneumonia

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — William Bendix, whose rough-guy looks and sly heart endeared him to television fans of "The Life of Riley," lay near death today from lobar pneumonia.

Doctors at Good Samaritan Hospital said his condition has been weakened by a combination brought on by a stomach ailment.

Bendix, 58, was admitted to the hospital Tuesday.

He had been living in the nearby desert resort of Palm Springs since finishing a road-company tour of the play "Never Too Late" earlier in the year.

His wife of 37 years, Therese, 58, said he had been suffering from stomach trouble for some time. He was operated on for stomach ulcers in 1955.

The Bendix daughters, Stephanie, 20, and Lorraine, 30, were keeping vigil with their mother.

Bendix was born in New York City on Jan. 14, 1906. His father and two uncles decided he should be a violinist.

"My father and two of his brothers were accomplished musicians," once said, "But I couldn't even hold down a job as a singing waiter."

He wanted to be a baseball player. He got his first job as a batboy for the New York Giants. Later he played semi-professional ball.

By Methodist Bishop:

Teaching Role Emphasized

UP IN SMOKE . . . The mortgage of the $125,000 educational unit at McKinley Methodist Church goes up in smoke at the dedication and mortgage burning ceremony at the church Sunday. Participating in the ceremony were, left to right, John Schmidt, official board chairman; L. M. Ferdinandsen Jr., board of trustees chairman; Howard Volkart, lay leader; Earl Laufenburger, Sunday school superintendent; Mrs. Bruce Reed, women's society president; Ernest Buhler, board of education chairman; Dr. George Butters, district superintendent; T. Otto Nall, bishop of the Minnesota Methodist Church, and the Rev. C. Merritt LaGrone, pastor of McKinley Methodist. (Daily News photo)

Bishop T. Otto Nall, resident bishop of the Minnesota area of the Methodist Church, dedicated the $125,000 educational unit of McKinley Methodist Church Sunday afternoon. It was consecrated in 1958.

In his sermon titled, "We Dedicate Ourselves," Bishop Hall emphasized that each of us must work out our own salvation with the help and guidance of teachers and pastors.

"Teaching is on a par with preaching, thus the role of church school teachers in the life of the church is most important," he said. "While Jesus was an effective preacher, he was primarily a teacher. Education in itself has no power of salvation but Christian fellowship itself is a part of Christian education. We need to apply in every day life our Christian principles and our church school can encourage this principle."

DR. GEORGE BUTTERS, district superintendent of the Southeast District, and former pastor of McKinley assisted in the service and reminisced briefly. They were: The Revs. Clare Karsten, now pastor at First University Methodist Church, Minneapolis; LeRoy H. Klaus, associate pastor at Hamline Methodist Church, St. Paul, and Allen Flohr, pastor of Columbia Heights Methodist Church.

The Rev. C. Merritt LaGrone, pastor, read greetings from Dr. Charles Mosebrook, Manila, Philippine Islands, and the Rev. Edward Gebhard, Red Wing, former pastors, and Dr. Paul Hayes, former district superintendent of the southeast district. The wives of the visiting clergy also were introduced.

The original building committee was introduced. Members were: Leonard Moore, chairman; Mrs. A. H. Arnsen, Mrs. Walter Karnath, Clarence Currier, C. Keith Millam, Lewis Schoening, Earl Laufenburger, John Fluegel and Rev. Karsten. Mrs. W. F. Hein was treasurer of the building fund.

Presenting the building to the bishop for the dedication were: Howard Volkart, lay leader; Earl Laufenburger, church school superintendent; Ernest Buhler, chairman of the commission on education; L. M. Ferdinandsen Jr., chairman of board of trustees; John Schmidt, chairman of the official board, and Mrs. Bruce Reed, president of Woman's Society of Christian Service. The mortgage was then burned by Dr. Butters, to symbolize a debt-free building.

After the dedication open house was held in the Sunday school rooms. Teachers were present to explain the aims and the work of the 190 children enrolled in the school. Members of the board of trustees were greeters in the educational unit.

A fellowship hour followed in Fellowship Hall with WSCS Circle 8. Mrs. Norton Cocker, chairman, serving refreshments.

THE STAFF of the church school: Superintendent, Earl Laufenburger; assistant superintendent, Mrs. Fred Heyer; children's superintendent, Mrs. Vern Bublitz; nursery teachers, Mrs. Albert White and Miss Sharon Nyseth; kindergarten, Miss Judy Acidington and Miss Judy Cocker, helper; grade 1 and 2, Miss Colleen Anderson and Miss Kay Leslie, helper; 3 and 4, Mrs. Lloyd Ferdinandsen and Mrs. Bruce Reed; 5 and 6, Mrs. Earl Laufenburger, Mrs. Russell Church and Miss DeAnn Neumann, helper.

Grade 7, Bruce Reed; 8, Howard Volkart; 9, Lewis Schoening; senior high class, L. M. Ferdinandsen Jr.; adult class, Clark McAllister; cradle roll superintendent, Mrs. Deane Harvey; secretary of attendance, Mrs. Howard Volkart; treasurer, Milton Smith; secretary of youth work, Mrs. Lewis Schoening; junior high counselors, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Laufenburger and Mrs. Mrs. L. M. Ferdinandsen Jr.; senior high counselors, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Addington.

Dog With Cleft Palate Is Lost

STUDIO CITY, Calif. (AP) —Willie, who people say is a most unusual beagle, is lost.

How will you know if you find him? Listen.

Willie, described as one of the only two dogs in the nation with a cleft palate, barks: "Dart, dart, dart."

Judith Bokelman said Sunday that a gardener left a gate open and her 2-year-old pet scampered off.

He was under treatment as an outpatient following surgery at the UCLA Medical Center when he made good his escape.

Lab director Norman Bleicher said that dogs born with a cleft palate seldom live long, and that scientists hoped to learn new methods of treatment by studying Willie, and, eventually, his offspring.

Subzero Weather Predicted for Week

Winter, officially, still is a week away but the weatherman decided to do a preview tonight when he forecast a temperature to drop to -5 to -15.

Much colder tonight and continued cold Tuesday is the official forecast for Winona and vicinity. Tuesday's high is expected to be near zero. Occasional light snow and a little warmer is the outlook for Wednesday.

EVEN THE extended forecast for the next five days indicates average temperatures will be 14 to 20 degrees below seasonal daytime averages of 24-30 and nighttime lows of 5 to 13.

In the five days' precipitation is expected to average less than

Highway Signal Will Be Out At Least Month

Four-way stop signs have been installed at the Trunk Highway 1461 and TH 43 intersection east of here and will remain in effect at least a month.

The signs were put in place Saturday after a car driven by a Winona woman knocked over the electronic control box for traffic signals at the intersection.

Police said Miss Gloria I. Ashelin, 22, 706 1/2 E. 4th St., fell asleep at the wheel while driving west on TH 1461 at 1:20 a.m. Saturday. After striking a sign on a safety island in the middle of TH 43, her car jumped the curb at the intersection's northwest corner, hitting the control box.

A new control box will have to be sent from a manufacturing firm in the East, Henry C. Kraus, resident engineer here for the Minnesota Department of Highways, said this morning.

After it arrives, it will have to be installed and regulated. This work may be complicated. Kraus explained, because cables running to the traffic signals may have been snapped by the impact of Miss Ashelin's car. If they are, he went on, crews would have to dig beneath the frozen ground to connect the cables again.

Hearings Set on Nonsupport Count

A hearing was set for Wednesday in municipal court on a motion by Attorney Dennis A. Challen to dismiss a charge of nonsupport brought today in the court against Thomas Hicks, 34, Menomonie, Wis.

Judge John D. McGill set the hearing after Challen said that any litigation over support should be heard as part of a divorce action against Hicks now pending in District Court.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Hicks on Nov. 27. The warrant charges Hicks with violation of a suspended sentence imposed by Judge McGill June 6 when the defendant pleaded guilty to an earlier nonsupport charge.

The suspension was granted on condition that Hicks make certain payments to his wife for support of their three minor children. Hicks was at that time living in nearby Wisconsin.

Hicks pleaded not guilty today to the violation of suspension charge. His $50 posted bail is continued.

Ordination Held At Osseo Church

OSSEO, Wis. — John Gilbert Morrison, pastor of United Church of Christ, Osseo, was ordained and installed into the Northwest Wisconsin Association at ceremonies here Sunday.

at 8 p.m. A.P. "Doc" Zimmerman will show scenes and movies of Caledonia businesses and people, Herman Frank, quartermaster, said.

Central Methodists Consecrate Edifice

"Glass permits the sunlight to shine through and enter the room, but it also reflects its own color and substance as it does so," Bishop T. Otto Nall, resident bishop of the Minnesota Area of the Methodist Church told an overflowing crowd Sunday morning at the consecration of the new Central Methodist Church.

Building his sermon on the beauty of the faceted glass windows of the new church, Bishop Nall said, "Christians are those through whom the truths of God shine into the world, but they also reflect this truth in their own person, nature and daily occupation."

"THE CHRISTIANS to whom the Apostle Paul wrote in Corinth were ordinary laymen: Dock workers, roustabouts, housewives, shipbuilders and slaves. These were those who were to overcome the darkness of sin, superstition, and wrong in the world," Bishop Nall said.

"So today, it is the layman and laywoman in the church who in, and at his daily tasks, witnesses to the truths of values in the Christian Gospel thus letting the light of Christ shine through into culture and society."

An estimated crowd of 800 crowded into the new church, which cost nearly $1 million, and overflowed into Norton Chapel and into the church parlors.

The new church, completed nearly four years after the old church burned Jan. 22, 1961, is on the same location.

Two acolytes, bearing the U.S. and the Christian flags, led the procession which opened the morning consecration service. These were the same flags which were carried from the guildhall at the conclusion of services one week ago.

The bearers brought in the Bible that was used in the guildhall. They were followed by senior and youth choirs and the clergy.

Dr. George Loomis, vice chairman of the building council, presented the building plans to Frank Coffield, president, board of trustees, who in turn presented the plans to the bishop to start the consecration service.

A. HENSEL, FINK, architect, and Mrs. Odell Prather, window designer, both from Philadelphia, discussed the architecture and the windows in the afternoon.

Fink said the architect, in designing a church, must be acquainted with the liturgy, theology and worship patterns of the church group for whom he is designing the church. The design and style of architecture must reflect and assist in the experience of God in worship and devotion. It was these things he had in mind when he designed the new Central Methodist Church, he said.

Winona Industries Election Set Aside

A Nov. 13 union representation election for Winona Industries employees has been set aside and another ordered by the National Labor Relations Board.

In the election, 118 votes were cast opposing the union and 110 were cast in favor. Seeking certification by means of the vote was Winona Teamsters Local 799.

RUSSELL BUNDY, business agent for the local, said notice of the set-aside order was received today.

The union had challenged the validity of election results on the basis of six charges of unfair labor practices it alleged were committed by the company. Issuing the order was C. Edward Knapp, regional NLRB director, at Minneapolis.

The director's order voiding results of the election was based on an investigation of one of the union's six charges concerning conduct of the balloting. He upheld the charge that the company's election observer was the wife of one of the owners,

Mrs. Leif Holan. The director said Mrs. Holan is office manager and chiefly responsible for hiring of production and maintenance employees.

"It is the board's established policy," Knapp wrote, "not to permit persons having the status of supervisors to serve as observers for an employer at an election."

WILLIAM WERNZ, company president, said he had no comment on the charges and that the matter had been turned over to company lawyers.

The union had filed five other charges, alleging:

1. Prior to the election the employer sent all employees a letter which "vilified" the union, contended the union could only collect dues and would "cause trouble" for all parties.

2. A wage increase was granted various employees after the petition for election was filed.

3. Wage increases were promised if the union was defeated in the voting.

4. A forewoman went to employees on election day, showed them checks of higher-paid workers and argued that no union was needed.

5. Some ineligible employees were allowed to vote and some eligible employees were prevented from voting.

The director's order said the single charge he had sustained was enough to justify another election. It was therefore unnecessary to rule on the merits of other allegations, he said.

No definite date for a new election was set by the order.

BUNDY SAID today that Local 799 will appeal to the NLRB director for direct certification as bargaining agent for the workers without putting the issue to another election. He said this is a permissible appeal under federal labor laws. Preparing the request for hearing is Erwin Peterson, St. Paul, an attorney for the Teamsters union.

At present, about 165 persons are working at the plant, company officials said. This is about 60 percent of the 280 employees who were eligible to vote in the November certification election.

Women form a large percentage of the employe rolls. Most are from towns and villages in the two-state area adjacent to Winona.

V. Simpson Corporation Dissolving

The V. Simpson Co., with offices in the Exchange Building, has liquidated its final real estate holdings and is dissolving as a corporation after 59 years.

The firm was established in 1905 to administer properties in the estate of V. Simpson, a longtime Winona real estate operator who had offices at 107 Center St.

Since 1918 the manager and later president of the firm has been J. Russell Smith, Homer, a Winona attorney whose offices are in the Exchange Building. Two of Simpson's daughters, Mrs. Smith and Dorothy S. Bailey, who now lives in California and Smith were the principal stockholders in the company.

The last major holding of the firm was the Simpson Block at the southwest corner of 2nd and Center streets.

Sold previously was the Ely Block, on the southeast corner of 2nd and Center and now the site of a municipal parking lot.

Other holdings included residential and other properties. Smith will continue to maintain his law office in the Exchange Building.

Scholastic Choir of St. Mary's College participated in the service. Miss Georgianna Loomis was soloist.

"THIS ENTIRE ecumenical service of worship is planned for and dedicated to honor and glorify the Heavenly Father, His Son, our Lord, Jesus Christ, and the Holy Spirit whom we all worship," said Dr. Burgess.

"This is truly an historic experience in the religious life of Winona, as for the first time Christians of most all parts of our Lord's body — Catholic, Anglican, and Protestant, worship Him together."

Church officials could not give an estimate of the number of people who toured the new house of worship Sunday, but said there was a continuous flow of people through the structure the entire day.

Fountain City Home Damaged

FOUNTAIN CITY, Wis. (Special) — Fire, believed to have started in electrical wiring on the main floor, burned out the interior of the third story of a home here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. LaValle Humphus weren't at home when neighbors noticed flames and called the fire department at 11:30 a.m. Chief Duane Baertsch said the volunteers had the fire under control in about an hour and stayed at the scene until about 4 p.m. No other buildings were endangered.

The flames burned out the top floor and contents, Baertsch said. Furniture in the main living area on the middle floor was damaged by water. A car was saved from the basement garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphus were visiting in La Crosse.

Humphus is a mechanic at Owl Motor Co., Winona. They have owned their home across from the boat yard entrance on North Shore Drive, or Highway 35, some years and about two months ago, returned to it from California. They have lived here intermittently between travels also to other states.

Remember the Lonely at Christmas

As the Christmas cards fill our mailboxes, will they also fall into the mailboxes of the sick, the lonely, the elderly?

Christmas, while a happy, family occasion, for most folks, can be extremely lonely for others. Of all times of the year, this is true. You can make it less lonely for Kenneth Hollogaard, a multiple sclerosis patient at Ojai, Calif. His address is 2464 E. Ojai Ave. A hospital patient, he is formerly of St. Charles.

The folks named below are confined to the quarters of St. Joseph's Hospital at Arcadia — for the most part they see little more than the walls that contain the nursing home and elderly area. Pleasant as they are, staying inside isn't like getting out and seeing the bright lights of the Christmas decorations downtown.

You can bring Christmas to these folks at St. Joseph's, Arcadia, with a Christmas card or note:

DEAR ABBY:

Let Her Decide About the Dance

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago a friend asked me to escort his cousin, who is in a wheelchair, to a party. She turned out to be a charming girl and we had a most enjoyable time. Since then I've dated her several times. (Mostly drive-ins because getting her in and out of a car is, in her own words, "quite a production.") I am a college senior and a big dance is coming up. She loves music and is an excellent conversationalist and I'm sure once we get into the place and settled down she would have a fine time. She has a collapsible wheelchair and uses a "transfer board," but I'm sure I could get someone to help me carry her. She doesn't seem sensitive about her disability, but my question is, do you think it is proper to ask a girl in a wheelchair to a dance?

ABBY

DEAR G.: Get on the subject of dances, and ask her how she'd feel about attending one. In escorting a handicapped person, the stairs present the greatest problem. Investigate beforehand and if the place can be entered without too big a "production," explain what is involved and let her make up her own mind.

DEAR ABBY: You recently printed a letter from a woman who telephoned a minister and asked him for a prayer she could say for her mother, who had just died. He replied, "I am too busy to help you . . . and besides, what good will prayer do her now?"

The minister was wrong in his first remark. But he was right in his second.

When a person is dead, it is too late to pray for him. If he died and went to heaven, he doesn't need our prayers. If he died and went to hell, our prayers will not reach him.

Sincerely yours,
A PENNSYLVANIA MINISTER

DEAR ABBY: My husband comes from a large family and so do I. Between us we have 22 nieces and nephews. In the past we have always bought them Christmas gifts, but now that they aren't "children" any more (some are now married) a little toy or trinket to put under the tree is no longer adequate. We can't afford expensive gifts, so I told all the nieces and nephews on MY side that I wasn't giving gifts this year and not to give us anything. They all understood and agreed. I think my husband should call everyone on HIS side and tell them. He says it's MY job! What do you think? I'm not as close to his relatives as I am to my own.

WOW IS ME

DEAR WOE: Your husband probably isn't any closer to HIS nieces and nephews than you are, so be a good sport and shoulder the load.

DEAR ABBY: I don't blame the husband for getting sore because his wife asked the television repairman to zip up her dress. The way those guys charge, he will probably find at least a $2.50 extra "service charge" on the bill. "MURPH"

Educational Problems Face Legislators

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Problems having to do with education loom large, as the time for the 1965 legislature to convene approaches.

A major one involves school aids. State aids now pay for around 45 per cent of the local cost of public elementary and secondary education.

Officials estimate that to continue the present aid formula—but not maintain the percentage—will require $42 million more the next two years because of higher enrollments and rising costs. Maintaining the percentage probably would require many millions more.

Most members of the legislature who answered questions in an Associated Press survey said they believe the percentage of support should be maintained. They offered a large variety of ways to raise the money.

Twenty of the 86 who sent replies said income tax rates should be increased, six would use a sales tax to raise the extra money and 10 said diversion should be stopped.

Income tax receipts are dedicated by law to elementary and secondary education but in the last two years some $47 million of the receipts were used for other forms of education.

A couple of legislators said they hoped favorable economic conditions would increase tax receipts enough to do the job, and one said cigarette and gasoline taxes should be increased to provide more money for education.

Nearly half of the lawmakers who answered the question—41 in all—said they believe dedication of income tax receipts should be continued.

Twenty-two said the legislature could do a better job if the receipts went into the general fund to be appropriated by the legislature as needed.

A number said it wouldn't make any difference.

"The legislature would always meet the needs of education," is the way Rep. Harold R. Anderson, North Mankato conservative, put it, "and elimination of dedicated funds would provide greater flexibility."

Sen. Jack Davies, Minneapolis liberal, agreed that undedicating the income tax would make little or no difference in education appropriations.

"It would justify higher income tax rates," he added, "and make more revenue available for other essential state programs."

Sen. Ed. Kennedy Ready to Walk Out of Hospital

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts is to fulfill a promise to himself Wednesday.

The brother of the late President John F. Kennedy has vowed to walk unassisted out of a Boston hospital where he has been recovering from a broken back, suffered in a plane crash last June 19.

A spokesman for Kennedy said the senator plans to leave the hospital Wednesday morning and fly to Palm Beach, Fla., for further recuperation.

No Mail Deliveries Dec. 26

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General John A. Gronouski has announced suspension of normal mail deliveries on Saturday, Dec. 26, so that Post Office personnel can have a three-day Christmas weekend at minimum expense to the government.

Employees who normally would have worked that day would be entitled to a compensatory day off the following week, on which substitute workers would have to be hired to replace them. That is where the saving — $3 million to $4 million — comes in, Gronouski said Friday.

The postmaster said most of the 590,000 postal employees will get a three-day holiday weekend, although post offices will have two-hour window service for business firms Dec. 26.

The Lesson of Detroit's Newspaper Strike

THE NEWSPAPER strike in Detroit ended Nov. 22 after 132 days.

It was the longest strike against "big-city" dailies in the history of the nation. But the strike against the Detroit News and the Free Press actually lasted only a little longer than similar strikes in Minneapolis, Cleveland and New York in 1961-62-63. A certain sickness seems to have stolen over labor-management relations in the daily press.

A brief review of the Detroit strike might give us some insights to that sickness.

Ironically, an eight-man joint group of national newspaper labor and management representatives concluded a successful meeting the week before the strike began. They announced that a study would be made to seek a common ground for satisfying needs of both sides in future contract negotiations.

The strike began July 13 with Freeman Frazee, head of the striking pressmen's local, saying, "It could be a long one." The paperhandlers' union also struck.

THE UNIONS had two chief demands: Overtime pay for the fifth day of the work week, when it fell on a Saturday; and manning of eight-unit presses with 16 men.

Neither side did much to shorten the strike in its first month. Negotiating sessions were held only twice, July 20 and Aug. 5.

Late in August, Michigan's Gov. Romney stepped into the picture, trying to bring the sides together. They met with the governor, and with each other; but August ended with Romney also looking forward to "a long one."

On Sept. 21, Romney appointed a three-man commission to study positions of both sides, and to try to promote successful negotiations.

THE COMMISSION reported a month later that both sides appeared to be taking "no back-down" attitudes. It recommended intensive negotiations until Nov. 1 with a neutral mediator — and compulsory arbitration, if necessary, after that date.

Federal mediation was sought. A settlement was reached, backed by President Johnson, which the mediator called "sound and equitable." The union membership rejected it.

The newspapers now called for compulsory arbitration, as recommended by the governor's commission, but the unions rejected this means of settlement also.

The strike settlement on Nov. 21 was actually a sort of cease-fire agreement, with settlement of the major issues only postponed.

READERS OF THE Detroit newspapers got their journals back in time for the Christmas rush of advertising, but they had not had them during the entire course of the Presidential election campaign — from conventions through primaries to the general election itself.

The governor's three-man commission issued a report on the strike that called a spade a spade. Let's look at that report.

"The 'strike issues,' " the commission agreed, "were not of sufficient importance to have warranted a strike in view of the opportunity which the unions had to settle for an economic 'package' which would have been reasonable and equitable."

Calling the strike "a naked power struggle," the commission condemned the futility of such means. "Economic force, already prolonged unduly, will not resolve the ultimate issues of 'principle' which each party conceives to be at stake."

"THE OBJECTIVE ON each side appears to be to force the other side to capitulate, whatever the economic and social costs involve." In the judgment of the commissioners, the struggle was not over the traditional wages and fringe benefits.

More "modern" concerns, such as protection from automation, were part of this strike; and both sides were attaching moral significance to the points of contention. However, the Detroit public found itself treated to the unseemly entertainment of a "moral" struggle being fought with economic bludgeons.

Was anything gained by the longest strike in "major" newspaper history?

Editor and Publisher magazine compared the publishers' original offer to the one finally accepted by the pressmen's union. (The other striking union, the paperhandlers, settled in early November for substantially what they were offered during pre-strike negotiations.)

There were only two differences. The final settlement was for a four-year contract whereas a two-year contract was originally proposed. The publishers had insisted that eight-unit presses be manned by 15 pressmen; the contract provided for 16 men until Nov. 30, 1965, when a permanent settlement will have been reached by negotiation or arbitration.

WAGES AND FRINGE benefits were the same in each contract. Thus, the major issue, the conflict which prolonged the strike over four weary months, was not settled. It was postponed till next year when arbitration will settle it if all else fails — and when the side that "loses" will not appear to have yielded under the pressure of a strike.

Neither side gained by this strike, unless the agreement to arbitrate the manning issue if necessary could be called a victory for the publishers. They had asked for arbitration before the strike started.

There is something very wrong here. Not only was the economic battle a stand off, but thousands of people who wanted no part of the fight found themselves hurt anyway.

A steel strike or an auto strike hits hard, and we have no trouble seeing the primary and even secondary damage that it does — to the national economy and to the population at large.

WHAT MAY NOT BE so apparent is the impact of a strike on a city's newspapers. Only a few thousand of the city's millions are thrown out of work and only millions, rather than hundreds of millions, of dollars in business is lost.

However, a newspaper is more than an economic entity. It is an "institution" of a democracy like ours. In an election year this is more apparent. In Michigan, a redistricting went into effect with the 1964 primary election on Sept. 1.

Many readers of the Detroit newspapers did not know what electoral district they were in — in spite of repeated broadcasts by the electronic media, outlining verbally the new boundaries.

In addition, the primary election saw an unusually large number of incomplete ballots, as high as 37 percent on one issue. The people hadn't been informed on some of the comparatively obscure propositions, such as bond issues.

A newspaper strike, too, hits hard. UNFORTUNATELY, the Detroit strike was fought as a purely economic struggle, as if the community, too, weren't a loser.

The unions seemed to start the strike thinking that if they made two demands sure to be considered outrageous by the publishers, they could later withdraw one as a "concession" and ask for the other in return.

In the middle of October, the unions actually did offer to abandon their demand for overtime pay on the fifth day of their 35-hour week in exchange for the publishers' agreement to man eight-unit presses with 16 men. This effort failed.

On the other hand, the publishers actively carried on a propaganda campaign to dishearten the unions. Early in October, the Free Press noisily announced a modernization program was taking place in its plant and facilities even during the strike.

THE PUBLISHER, Lee Hills, confidently announced, "There is no reason why we shouldn't pick up where we left off immediately after the strike. We have a heavy advertising schedule for whenever we resume."

Later in the month, the publishers released figures showing that the average pressman had lost $3,080 in wages since the beginning of the strike and the average paper handler had lost $2,226. The obvious implication of these moves was that the strike was hurting the unions more than the publishers.

Neither side, through the course of the strike, showed any serious willingness to compromise. The objective of the publishers' psychological warfare and the unions' devious negotiating tactics was the complete capitulation of the other side.

"The outcome has been a fine example of two newspapers fighting it out on a common ground. It means the entire industry and the unions will have to develop better ways of handling labor relations and labor disputes," said Hills. And we say, Amen, Mr. Hills.

What was lacking in Detroit and has been lacking in labor-management disputes elsewhere, was the responsibility — a respect for the community at large and a constant consciousness of its needs. A community where large factions tear away at one another, with a view toward a narrow victory for the faction's own narrow interests, and with that alone in view, is not a community at all. It is a number of tribes which happen to live in the same locality.

THERE IS A LESSON here for every community in this self-governing nation. —TB.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Kirwan Did Good Job For Samoa Education

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—My apologies to two congressmen, John J. Flynt, D-Ga., and Mike Kirwan, D-Ohio, in regard to a recent column on their junkies.

I now find that Rep. Flynt did not get started on his. He was slated to go to the Far East as a member of the House Appropriations Committee, but at the last minute called off the trip.

Rep. Kirwan did go to Samoa in the South Sea islands on an inspection trip for the Appropriations Committee. But additional background has become available which in fairness I want to report.

For a long time the American part of Samoa has been one of the more neglected portions of the South Seas. It has suffered from poor schools, with one-third of the children of high school age not attending. Under the law they are supposed to be taught in English, but few Samoan teachers have a real knowledge of English.

Accordingly, Gov. Rex Lee decided to inaugurate educational television. He had the alternative of firing 300 Samoan teachers and bringing in 300 Americans to teach English, which would have generated ill will. So he decided to use a few American teachers to teach students via TV, and incidentally improve the English of the Samoan teachers.

WHEN THE problem came before the House Appropriations Committee, Mike Kirwan, subcommittee chairman, helped appropriate $1,600,000 for educational TV. The money was voted, the TV network was set up in cooperation with the National Association of Educational Broadcasters, and Mike was persuaded — somewhat against his will — to make the trip to dedicate the new TV network.

Mike did inspect public works on the islands, plans for a new hotel and a new hospital. He also dedicated a new airport.

But most important and most inspiring was to see classrooms of Samoan children listening to an American teacher on the TV screen point to a pig and in chorus "big pig," then point to a man and get them to say in chorus "big man."

It was a laborious start, but one which is beginning to get results — so much so that a representative of New Zealand's Samoa islands and the Prince of Tonga came over to see the Samoan inauguration. It has now become an education showplace for the South Pacific.

I AM DELIGHTED to give these further facts about Mike Kirwan's junkie, and I am grateful to Leonard Marks, counsel for educational TV, for bringing them to my attention.

While congressmen are jetting all over the world and staying at the finest hotels — at taxpayer expense — Rep. William Bray, R-Ind., is doing the opposite.

Bray and his wife have left on a 17-day tour of South America and will pay their own expenses for everything, including travel, hotels, meals, and miscellaneous. It won't cost the taxpayers a penny, though Bray plans to spend part of his time on "official business."

He will inspect military missions and foreign aid spending in Brazil, Argentina, and other countries as a representative of the House Armed Services Committee.

"While I plan to do some work, I want to be perfectly honest in saying that the primary purpose of this trip is pleasure," acknowledged Bray. "I'm not criticizing colleagues who let the government pay for foreign travel, provided they work while abroad. I've done it myself. But this time Mrs. Bray and I are paying it all."

THE STEELWORKERS battle to unseat Dave McDonald has started some of Dave's friends, among them James P. Griffin, for 22 years director of Youngstown district 26.

Griffin has done a great job not only for labor but for the community, is chairman of Mahoning County Community College, on the advisory vocational committee, of the Ohio State Board of Education, and Bishop Emmett M. Walsh pays sincere tribute to him for his work among Catholic men. So does Auxiliary Bishop James Malone. Incidentally, recent polls taken among steelworkers indicate that McDonald stands much higher than his opponents suspected. It won't pay to count him out.

Red China Offers Loan to Pakistan

By MARQUIS CHILDS

KARACHI, Pakistan — An interest-free loan of $60,000,000 is Red China's latest bid for Pakistan's friendship. Moreover, according to Pakistani officials, the Chinese are very casual about the terms of repayment — 10 years, 20 years or whenever you feel you can pay it back if that time comes.

A large signboard on the main traveled road from the airport says: "See Canton and Shanghai via Pakistan International Airways." PIA initiated the line to China with Boeing 707s a year and a half ago with one flight a week. Now there are two flights each week filled to capacity.

In negotiating the loan with China, the government decided to send a team of 15 leading industrialists and businessmen to explore the potentialities. They divided into specialized panels of four or five and in this way covered Chinese industry in seven different cities. They brought back a highly favorable report on what Pakistan could obtain from the proceeds in textile machinery, trucks, earth-moving machinery and other equipment.

"We found, for example," said one of the industrialists, "that their trucks were not as smoothly finished as an American truck. But when we saw them in operation we concluded they were sturdy and well-built and would serve our purposes. Our textile men were impressed by their textile machines."

THIS IS only one instance of Operation Allure as practiced by Peking. China is going all out to woo the Asian-African nations. Invited delegations fill many of the seats on the PIA flights to Canton. They come back duly impressed with what they have seen — clean streets, no beggars, no flies, everyone at work.

Understandably the United States is not happy over the growing community of interest between Pakistan and China. The American line is that this is seduction and that sooner or later disillusionment will come as Peking replaces the carrot with the stick under the Chinese policy of divide and rule in all of Asia. But the Pakistanis insist they know just what they are doing and how far they can go. Certainly no one could accuse this strongly individualistic Moslem people of being pro-Communist.

PAKISTANI officials reply to American murmurs of distress by saying, in effect, what we are doing is to keep a window to the West open in China which would otherwise be entirely closed off. When the Chinese in Canton and Shanghai see your Boeings with their power and their luxurious fittings they cannot help but be impressed.

This does not entirely convince American diplomats who see a stream of Chinese fanning out through Karachi into Asia and Africa.

Certainly the attention of the great power with more than 700,000,000 people is flattering. Premier Chou En-lai came here last February. He told top government officials that if the United States attacked North Viet Nam with conventional weapons China would respond in force as happened in Korea.

If nuclear weapons were used, the Soviet Union would inevitably be drawn in, Chou said. Then the United States and Russia would be destroyed while China, although taking heavy losses, would survive. That was long before Khrushchev was removed and the belief here is Moscow's recent warning to Washington on intervention in Viet Nam indicates the two Communist powers are beginning to heal the breach that was so wide in the closing months of the Khrushchev era.

THIS MAY partly be put down to wishful thinking. One source of deep resentment here is that Pakistan's policy of alignment with the United States beginning in 1954 cost her the enmity of Moscow and earned the title "imperialist stooge" in

Effect of Gastritis Explained

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is gastritis? What causes it and what effect does it have on the system? Is it curable? What made me vomit blood? — A. B.

Gastritis is a rather loose word describing inflammation of the upper digestive tract. Strictly speaking, it means inflammation of the stomach lining. However, sometimes it is applied to most any old discomfort of the mid-section — gall bladder disease, constipation, gas and others.

An ulcer, not yet diagnosed but causing pain, burps, or nausea, might be called gastritis, and with fairly good reason, since the surrounding tissues will be inflamed.

Causes of gastritis? Tainted food, for one. Or sometimes poisons which may not be deadly but will inflame the stomach. Or some infection, including the ones we call intestinal flu.

EXCESSIVE use of alcohol is a notorious cause of gastritis. Too much highly-spiced foods can cause it, too.

With a temporary cause, the stomach calms down and heals itself when given half a chance. The treatment, in general, is much like that for an ulcer: Bland food, no seasonings or spices, avoidance of alcohol, many times a vitamin supplement and sometimes a medication to neutralize stomach acid.

Probably the hardest cases to treat are those which have developed gradually over a period of many years of overeating, overdrinking, or excessive use of spicy condiments.

A HEALTHY stomach may take the abuse for years or even decades before it begins to rebel. Then the patient is inclined to refuse to follow the treatment, outlined above, with such arguments as, "I've been drinking whisky for 30 years and I never had any trouble — that can't be the reason." So he takes his pills and vitamins and does everything EXCEPT stop doing what really caused his gastritis.

The sudden and acute cases of gastritis, from tainted food or toxic materials, are usually quickly cleared up. Those that took years to develop require some time to correct.

If the inflamed surfaces of the stomach become sore and raw enough, naturally they can bleed.

some African countries. But now nonaligned India is getting large-scale American military aid, or so it is believed here, which frightens and enrages the Pakistanis.

1964 Collision Damage in City Tops $100,000

Four accidents in Winona Sunday pushed the property damage total for the year over $100,000. A minor injury also was recorded.

Leo A. Hentges, Fountain City, Wis., was driving west on 4th Street at 10:45 a.m. when a collision occurred with a car driven south on Market Street by John H. Loecke, 21, 225 1/2 E. 3rd St.

Patrolman Robert A. Theis measured 22 feet of skid marks from the rear wheels of Loecke's car. Hentges' car left no skid marks before the accident. More than $100 damage was done to the right rear door of the Hentges' vehicle, and more than $200 to the front of Loecke's car.

A COLLISION at Wabasha and Grand streets at 1:49 p.m. caused more than $200 damage to both cars involved and a minor injury to a passenger in one of them.

Edward D. Jerecek, 42, Minnesota City, the owner of a car driven east on Wabasha Street by his son, Michael, 18, complained of pain after a collision with a car driven south on Grand Street by Donald C. Bentson, 18, 452 W. Broadway.

The Jerecek car left no skid marks and traveled 60 feet after impact. The Bentson car skidded 34 feet before impact on sanded street surfaces.

Damage was to the left rear door and side of the Jerecek car and to the front of the Bentson car, said Patrolmen Willis H. Wogan and Robert A. Theis.

A CITY BUS struck a parked car on Mankato Avenue 20 feet south of Wabasha Street sometime Sunday.

The bus driven north on Mankato Avenue by Louis R. Hulbur, 23, 558 W. 5th St., struck a parked car parked at the east curb, belonging to Kenneth Baker, 1074 E. 5th St. More than $100 damage was done to the left front fender and bumper of the car, none to the bus.

The accident was not investigated at the scene by police occurred at 11 a.m. on 5th Street, 25 feet west of Chestnut Street.

KATHLEEN L. Kaiser, 18, Fountain City, Wis., was driving east on 5th Street when a car owned by Richard Drussell, 379 E. 5th Street, pulled away from the south curb, also moving east.

The resulting collision caused more than $100 damage to the right side of the Kaiser vehicle. Drussell had not completed his part of the accident report this morning.

Plane Crash Kills Father of Nine

BRADFORD, Ill. (AP)—John B. Remick, 33, a father of nine from Greenfield, Wis., was killed Saturday night when his single engine plane crashed in fog near here.

Sheriff Bert Elitzroth of Stark County said visibility was zero when Remick's Cessna 170 struck trees and a high voltage line and nosed into a plowed field.

Ex-Husband Gets 90 Days

A 90-day jail term was given Dorvan Lande, 38, no permanent address, today in municipal court after Lande pleaded guilty to assaulting his former wife early Saturday.

Judge John D. McGill said that Lande's record of assaults against his wife gave no choice of leniency. "If you can't help yourself at this late date, nobody can," the judge said. "You'd better stop kidding yourself and act like a man. Shape up or ship out," Lande was told.

THE DEFENDANT had requested that he be sent to Willmar State Hospital, a sanatorium for inebriates. "I'm just going around in a big circle," he said. But George Robertson Jr., city attorney, took exception to Lande's plea for mercy.

He told the court that Mrs. Lande works as a waitress to support her family with no help from her former husband. When she returned from work Saturday at 1 a.m., Robertson said, she awakened Lande. "He assaulted his wife and raised general cain in the house continuously through the early hours of the morning," the city attorney alleged.

Robertson said that an examination later Saturday by a physician showed Mrs. Lande, bleeding from her left ear canal and with a possible punctured ear drum. In addition, the doctor found new and old bruises over Mrs. Lande's upper body.

"I PUSHED HER, she fell over a wastebasket... You want to hear the rest of that story?" Lande interrupted. Robertson said that Lande could tell his story to the court. When the city attorney had finished, Lande asked Judge McGill, "What can you say?"

The defendant pleaded guilty to assaulting his wife "but not the way it's written up," he told the judge when Deputy Clerk of Court Edgar Lynch finished reading the charge. The complaint said that Lande struck his wife with his hands and fists.

"I'm guilty of assault but not that way," he said. Judge McGill refused to accept a guilty plea to anything other than the charge as read; and Lande, saying he did not want a trial on the charge, pleaded guilty to it.

IN PASSING sentence, Judge McGill agreed with Robertson that the maximum penalty for simple assault, a 90-day jail term with no alternative fine, should be imposed. Lande was accordingly committed to the county jail.

He was arrested Saturday at 2:20 p.m. after his wife's examination and her subsequent complaint. The couple was divorced last February after Lande had several times pleaded guilty to assault charges brought by Mrs. Lande.

Lake City Farm Building Burns

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special)—A 40 by 60-foot quonset building and nearly all its contents burned on the Willard Bremer farm near here Sunday morning.

Destroyed with the building were 700 bales of hay, 300 bales of straw, a tractor, drills, elevator, corn sheller, new cement mixer, mower and chopper wagon. Only another tractor in the building was saved.

No estimate of damage was given. The loss was covered by insurance.

Lake City firemen were called at 9:30 a.m. The farm is about three miles west of Lake City, out Lakewood Ave., on the crest of a hill overlooking town. Firemen kept the fire from spreading to the barn and a new home.

At 8 p.m. Sunday firemen were called to the Hi Neighbor automatic laundry in town. Flames were confined to clothing which had ignited in a dryer.

Lake Citian New Administrator of Watkins Home

Bishop T. Otto Nall, head of the Methodist Church for Minnesota, announced Sunday his appointment of the Rev. Eugene K. Meyers as administrator of the Paul Watkins Memorial Methodist Home, Winona, effective Jan. 15.

Rev. Meyers has been acting as temporary administrator since Oct. 19 when the Rev. H. A. Graubner resigned. Rev. Meyers also is vice president of the memorial home's board.

Rev. Meyers has been pastor of the Lake City and Zumbro Falls, Minn., churches several years. During his pastorate a new $200,000 church building was built in Lake City where he and his family have a home.

A native of Kentucky, Rev. Meyers came to Minnesota from Rev. Meyers Whitesburg, Ky., in 1958 to serve the St. Charles-Stockton Methodist churches. He is a 1938 graduate from Kentucky Wesleyan College, Owensboro, Ky., and a 1944 graduate from Perkins School of Theology, affiliated with Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Tex.

The Meyers family includes his wife, Helene; three daughters, Madeline, a teacher in Minneapolis; Suzanne, a nurse affiliated with the St. Louis Park, Minn., Methodist Hospital; and Nancy Jane, at home, and a son, David, who attends Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky.

The family will move to Winona as soon as housing can be arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bergerson (Arneson photo)

Charlene Solberg Becomes Bride of Michael Bergerson

TAYLOR, Wis. (Special) — Miss Charlene Gale Solberg, daughter of Clifford Solberg, Taylor, and the late Mrs. Solberg, became the bride of Michael Brian Bergerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olger Bergerson, Northfield, Wis., Dec. 5.

The Rev. Franklyn Schroeder officiated in Upper Pigeon Creek Lutheran Church, Northfield.

FOR HER wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of lace over taffeta. It had a scalloped sabrina neckline, trimmed with sequins, and long tapered sleeves in a fitted bodice. The skirt had a plain front panel, with sequin-trimmed tiers at the sides and back. Her veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of red and white roses.

Mrs. Ronald Bergerson, Kenosha, Wis., was maid of honor and Mrs. Jerry Nelson, Kenosha, was bridesmaid. They were attired in street-length red velvet dresses fashioned with rounded necklines. They wore matching red veils and carried bouquets of white carnations.

RONALD Bergerson, Kenosha, brother of the groom, was best man and Jerry Nelson, Kenosha, was groomsman. Gaylen West, Hixton, Wis., and Parris Hanson, Hixton, were ushers.

Terry Nelson, Blair, Wis., was soloist and organist was Mrs. Bernard Thompson, Whitehall, Wis.

A reception for 150 was held in the church parlors. The York Birthday Club was in charge of refreshments. Others who assisted were Misses Janet Solberg, Gail Koxlien and Susanne Skare and the Misses Arthur Tweed, Andrew Larson and Ronald Johnson.

THE BRIDE was given three showers prior to her marriage. They were at the Upper Pigeon Creek Lutheran Church, at the Bert Skaar home, Taylor, and at the Carlyle Skolos home, Hixton.

The bride attended Taylor High School and the bridegroom, Whitehall High School. He is employed at American Motors Corporation, Kenosha. They are at home at 2419 73rd St., Kenosha.

DAKOTA WSCS — DAKOTA, Minn. (Special) — Dakota Methodist Church Women's Society of Christian Service will meet Thursday at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James Hesselgrave in the village of Dakota. The meeting is being held a week early because of Christmas week.

Hokah Girl To Work In Rome

HOKAH, Minn. — "The Eternal City" built on seven hills, Rome Italy, will be home for the next two years to Miss Charlotte Heintz, daughter of Mrs. Mathilda Heintz, Hokah. Miss Heintz will be a secretary in the American Embassy, Rome, on her first assignment with the U.S. Department of State Foreign Service.

A graduate of Rochester Junior College, Miss Heintz was employed in La Crosse prior to entering the Foreign Service.

IN PREPARING for overseas assignment, Miss Heintz, as does each new recruit, underwent a period of orientation and training in the Foreign Service Institute in Washington, D.C., to become familiar with the work and conditions she may encounter abroad, as well as with matters of protocol and diplomatic procedure. She is one of the many young people who responded to the Department of State's announcement of job opportunities available to qualified applicants interested in government service at home or abroad.

Other young people interested in a career similar to that chosen by Miss Heintz may write to the Department of State Recruiter, Mrs. Lillian S. Berton, Main Post Office, Room 1048, Chicago, Illinois 60607.

MR. AND MRS. EDMUND FELTZ (Marie Gappa) are at home at 711 Winona St., following their marriage Nov. 28 at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart. The Rev. James McCauley officiated and attendants were Miss Carol Buscovich, maid of honor, and Jerome Wamhoff, Circle Pines, Minn., best man. The groom is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Al Feltz, 1072 E. Sanborn St. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gappa, 283 W. Mark St., wore a satin and lace gown made by her grandmother, Mrs. Pauline Gappa, Winona. A dinner and wedding breakfast were held at Williams Hotel. The reception was at Winona Athletic Club. (Camera Art Photo)

ALTAR SOCIETY PARTY

Arthur Johnsons Celebrate 35th

PEPIN, Wis. — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary at a party at Hortenbach's Ballroom, Bay City, Wis. Hosts were their children and spouses.

The many friends who attended presented the Johnsons with a purse of money.

Mr. Johnson and the former Henrietta Helges were married Nov. 30, 1929, at Nelson, Wis., where they made their home for several years. For the last 21 years they have lived in Pepin.

Their children are: Mrs. Melford (Yvonne) Clark and Mrs. Neil (Orlene) Longsdorf, Maiden Rock, Wis.; Mrs. Norbert (Theone) Selpel, Mondovi, Wis., and Verle Johnson, Pepin.

Altar Society Names Officers

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Officers of St. Bridget's Catholic Altar Society for 1965 will be Mrs. Joseph Steilflue, president; Mrs. John Beirne, vice president and secretary and Mrs. Glenn Erickson, Frenchville, Wis., treasurer.

At a meeting Wednesday evening members brought 50 cents each for the purchase of books for the library at St. Joseph's Home for the Aged in La Crosse, and canned goods for the Sisters of Our Lady of the Apostles at Galesville, Wis.

AFTER A NORTHERN WISCONSIN HONEYMOON, following their marriage Nov. 28 at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church, Arcadia, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Sobotta are at home at 65 N. Union St., Aurora, Ill. The bride is the former Miss Charlotte Sonsalla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius L. Sonsalla, Arcadia. The groom is the son of Mrs. Palmer Halverson, Arcadia, and the late William Sobotta. The Very Rev. Joseph J. Andrzejewski officiated and attendants were Miss Mary Sonsalla, sister of the bride, and James Sobotta, Kenosha, Wis. A family dinner, an afternoon reception and a dance in the evening were held at Club 83. The bride is a graduate of Arcadia High School and the College of Beauty Culture, Milwaukee. The groom attended Arcadia schools and served three years in the Army. He is employed at a caterpillar plant in Aurora. (King's Studio)

By JEAN HAGEN
Daily News Women's Editor

The happy children who live at the Lamberton Children's Home, 211 Huff St., were given a special holiday treat Saturday afternoon.

THE EAGLES Auxiliary put on a Christmas party, complete with a twinkling lighted Christmas tree 12 feet tall, a plump Santa Claus who brought them all gifts, and the serving of a Christmas lunch.

Some of the children responded with spontaneous performances of songs and pieces, to the delight of the other children and the auxiliary women.

The party began in the bright and cheerful dining room, where walls are painted a pale green and three long tables accommodate the young residents. For the party the central table was decorated with a Christmas centerpiece of evergreens set with purple and lavender candles and streamers of matching ribbons.

After the 17 children who were present were seated at places set with lace-paper place mats, nut cups of candies and big popcorn balls wrapped in bright paper, Mrs. LaVerne Heckley read Christmas stories.

THEN THE lunch was served by Mrs. Heckley and the other two auxiliary women on the committee, Mrs. Harold O'Dea and Mrs. Elayne Klein, assisted by Sister M. Victoria, who is the Sister Superior in charge of the home, Sister M. Vita, Sister M. Thomasina and Sister M. Nicolene.

The youngsters had ice cream, frozen in the shape of Santa Claus, chocolate milk and a variety of Christmas cookies. Each member of the auxiliary donated a dozen of her own making.

Like all children everywhere at Christmas time, the children, who range in age from 6 to 16 years of age, giggled and romped as they went down the hall to the front parlor. There the tall Christmas tree, donated by one of the Eagles Auxiliary women, was set up in the windowed north alcove. The Sisters and the children had trimmed it with ornaments and lights the night before.

TO THE children's amazement, a real live Santa Claus stood beside the tree in his bright red suit, trimmed with white fur to match his whiskers.

Mrs. O'Dea read the names on the packages and Santa handed out the gifts to each child. The presents included knitted mukluks and other slippers, warm caps, leather mittens, records, cosmetics such as hair grooming lotions and shampoos and scented body powder, hair bands and barrettes.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Richard Feiten, director of the Catholic Charities, which sponsors the home, made his appearance and the children crowded around him to show off their gifts.

AS THE children sat around the floor amidst the wrappings and ribbons, admiring each other's presents, three little girls stood up and sang a song of several verses, which they had made up. And then a small boy popped up and said a little piece, his brown eyes twinkling like the lights on the Christmas tree.

Real Meaning of Christmas Outlined by Vicar for DARs

"The Real Meaning of Christmas" was the topic presented by the Rev. Walter C. Ellingson, vicar of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Rushford, Minn., to members of Wenonah Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Saturday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

IN RELATING the establishment of Dec. 25 by the Romans in about 336 A.D. as the anniversary of the birth of Christ, Rev. Ellingson traced the historical background of the celebration in relation to early day seasonal pagan celebrations.

Christian influence, according to the speaker, extended itself by example through both the Roman and the Eastern churches. Its doctrine of the oneness of God and Man, the incarnation, is the true meaning of the Christmas celebration, he said. The influences of myth, truth, personalities and nations, has given the Christmas celebration different interpretations with the many national cultures, but the season, in all celebrations, is one of joy, merrymaking and gift-giving, said the speaker.

MISS MARION Wheeler, regent, presided at the brief business meeting and received reports of the various standing committee chairmen. Miss Leslie Gage, chaplain, gave the Christmas Prayer.

A request from the state DAR Chapter for prize recipes to be sent for compilation in a Minnesota cookbook was read. Members were asked to type favorite recipes and have them ready to give to Mrs. A. E. Meinert, chairman of the project, at the Jan. 13 meeting at the home of Mrs. Ward Lucas.

Mmes. E. E. Christensen, Philip A. Baumann and Miss Mary Vance were hostesses for the social hour following the meeting. Mrs. C. D. Tease and Miss Wheeler presided at the Tea table.

Quie Campaign Cost More Than $18,000

Rep. Albert H. Quie's volunteer committee has reported more than $19,000 in receipts and expenditures totaling more than $18,000 during the recent political campaign.

This information was contained in letters filed by the QUIE Volunteer Committee with the secretary of state. Two letters were filed, one Oct. 8 — covering the period from July 9 to Sept. 7 — and the other Dec. 3 — covering the period from Sept. 8 to Dec. 3.

State law requires candidates' volunteer committees to file statements of receipts and expenditures by Dec. 3. Candidates themselves must file four such statements, with the last one being due by Nov. 13.

Rep. Quie's committee reported — in letters, rather than the official state form printed for the purpose — expenditures totaling $18,263.10 throughout the entire campaign. Receipts totaled $19,415.

The congressman himself reported total receipts of $280.54 and total expenditures of $963.74 in the campaign.

The DALEY for Congress Volunteer Committee — the group working for George Daley, Lewiston, the man Rep. Quie defeated in the general election — submitted a report Aug. 31. Nothing was filed later than that. Prior to the end of August, the committee received $3,830, spent $3,356.45 and incurred obligations totaling $340.14.

Receipts were listed as having come from the 1st District Democratic - Farmer - Labor party and from individual contributors, with no breakdown given.

Of the amount spent, the largest amounts went to staff members' salaries ($1,295.48) and printing ($1,600).

Daley himself had reported spending $1,260 — most of it travel expense — during the campaign. He reported no receipts.

DONALD FRANKE, Rochester, successful candidate for the post of 3rd Judicial District Judge, had reported the highest total expenditures of any of the congressional or district judicial candidates running here. In a statement filed in November, he reported having spent $3,737.20 and having received $272.

No volunteer committee submitted any reports of expenditures of receipts for efforts in behalf of Franke.

S. A. (JIM) SAWYER, the Winona attorney Franke defeated, had a volunteer committee working for him that submitted four detailed reports of receipts and expenditures.

The Sawyer for District Judge Volunteer Committee reported having received a total of $4,099.93 during the campaign, and of having spent $6,563.94.

Most of the money spent went for advertising in district newspapers or on district radio stations.

Sawyer himself, in a statement filed Oct. 26, reported expenditures totaling $274.87. He listed no receipts.

Two Court Cases Scheduled in Houston County

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Two matters for the court are scheduled before District Judge Leo F. Murphy Thursday: Becker Roofing Co. against Paul and Theoline Rauk, involving an allegedly unpaid $700 roofing bill, plus $200 attorney fees, and Edward A. Albrecht against Lloyd Gleason.

Albrecht charges Gleason with converting his roan Short-horn cow, with calf, to his own use July 28, 1958. He is suing for $300 plus interest.

All jury cases scheduled to be heard before Judge Murphy have been completed so the jury won't have to return this year.

Judge Arnold Hatfield will preside in Houston County District Court after Judge Murphy retires Dec. 31.

Following a half-day of trial the $1,071.55 suit brought by Dale G. Waterman, La Crosse attorney, seeking fees from Katherine Kennelly, who hired him to get her share of a joint account with her husband, was settled. L. L. Duxbury Jr., represented Waterman and Roerkohl, Rippe & Lee, Mrs. Kennelly. Mr. Kennelly died before the case got to court, solving the plaintiff's problem.

The replevin action brought by Arthur A. Schmitt against Francis and Dorothy Schnedecker and Commercial State Bank, Hokah, in an effort to recover a boat house he sold the Schnedeckers, was settled in conference before trial. Roerkohl, Rippe & Lee represented plaintiff and John R. McDonald and William J. Sauer, defendants.

Teamsters Elect Cummings Trustee

Donald Cummings, Homer, was elected last week to a three-year term as a trustee of Teamsters Local 799 here.

He replaces Harry Ladewig. Holdover members of the union's board of directors are Waldemar V. Conrad, president; Douglas Rupps, vice president; John Dearman, secretary; Mrs. Eileen Ensrud, recording secretary, and Anthony Kohler and Russell Bundy, trustees.

Writing to the center to learn if he had any decorations coming, Janda was surprised to receive the Bronze Star. It had been authorized at the same time as his Purple Heart but was never presented to him.

Janda operated a beer distributorship in Winona several years.

Ex-Winonan Gets Bronze Medal 20 Years Late

Walter M. Janda, Minneapolis, formerly of Winona, has received the Army's Bronze Star medal in connection with a World War II action on Kwajalein Island in 1944.

A first lieutenant at the time, Janda was leading a seven-man patrol which was fired on by Japanese machine guns. Two men were killed and Janda and the others were wounded. He was subsequently awarded the Purple Heart medal.

Janda recently learned of an Army records center in St. Louis from a co-worker in the Minneapolis offices of North Central Airlines. Janda is district supervisor of reservations and ticketing at North Central's Twin Cities base.

The list shows no contributions of $5,000 or more in Wisconsin to the Democratic Party.

House of the Week

2-Family House Doesn't Look Like It

By ANDY LANG

We have something unusual this week — something rarely seen in house plans displayed for the reading public.

It's a two-family house! Not just any old two-family house, but one that looks like a one-family house, thanks to an ingenious design by architect Herman H. York.

MOST two-family houses have one living area directly over the other, or one unit next to the other in a symmetrical pattern. But note the exterior of this house, with a porticoed front porch at the left and an attractive separate entrance at the right side, giving an over-all appearance of a one-family, two-story plan.

There are two garages, but one has been subordinated, further adding to the impression of single-family occupancy.

This house is so built that each unit can be separately owned or the entire structure singly-owned with one unit rented. Income-producing property such as this is particularly good where land values are high and plot sizes consequently must be held to a minimum.

UNDER some community ordinances, this double residence conceivably could be built on a plot measuring as little as 70' wide, although a width of 80' would be preferable. In any case, it is important that local zoning ordinances be carefully checked to determine what can and cannot be done at the exact location where you intend to build.

Each unit has its living room to the left of its own entrance and foyer. There is a living room-dining room expanse of 31' in the home to the left of the party wall, about the same to the right.

You can see that this party wall extends as a six-foot-high brick wall when it moves outdoors, thus serving as a decorative and practical separation of the two rear terraces. Since the chimney is conveniently located between the two terraces, individual barbecues can be built if desired. Both kitchens overlook and lead to the terraces.

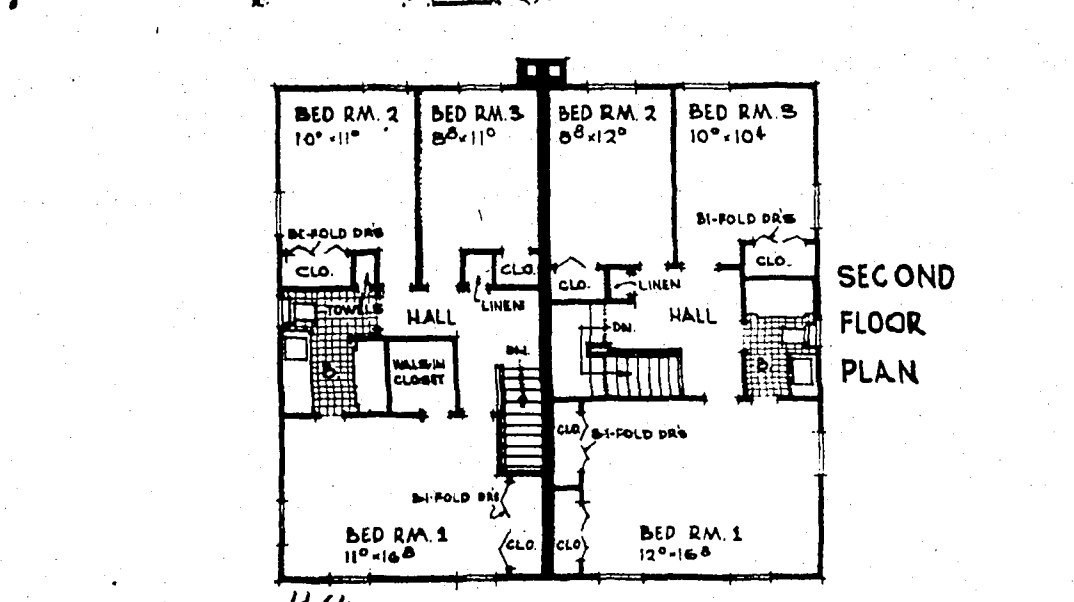

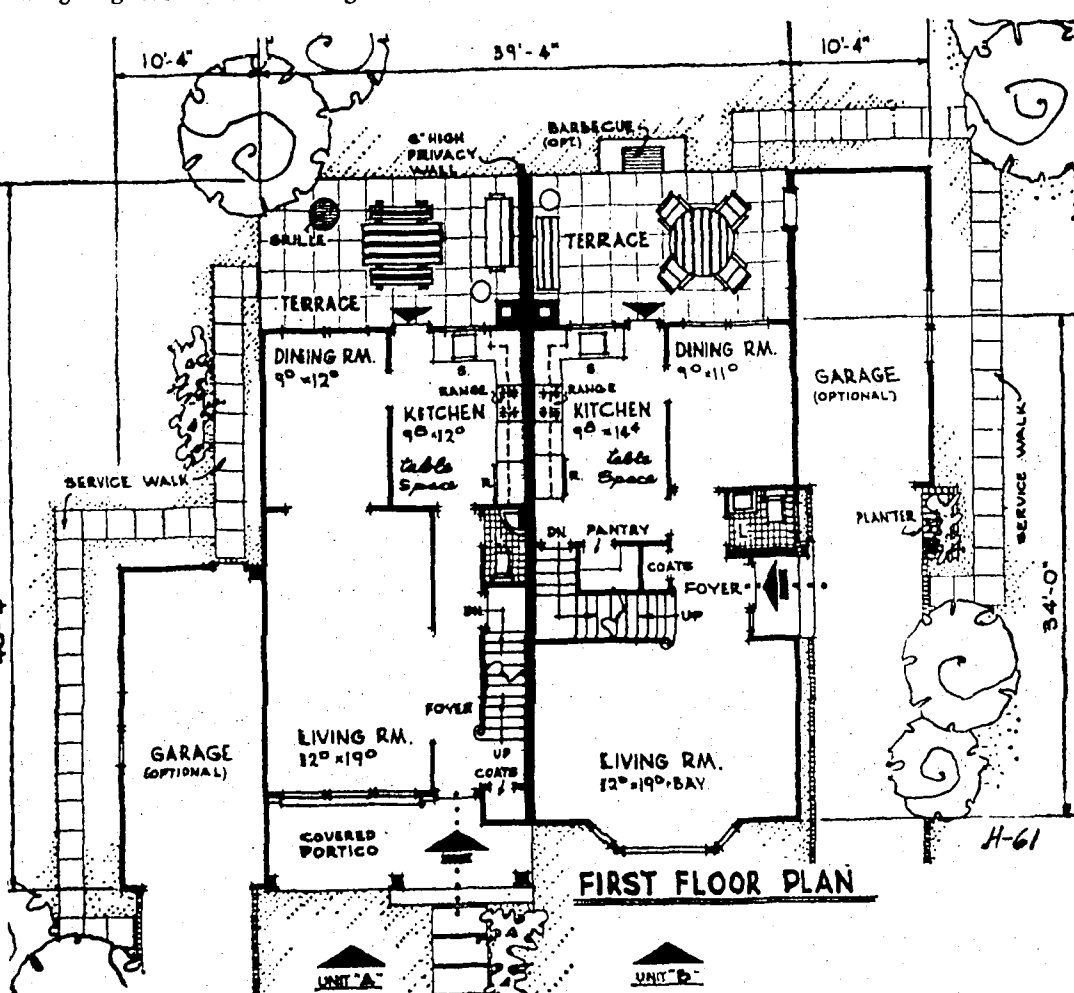

WHILE THE kitchens can be entered from the rear of the house, it is not necessary to do so, the traffic pattern permitting movement to them from the main entrances without crossing any other rooms.

Another advantage of the traffic design is that any one can go from the outside directly to the stairs leading to the bedrooms. Each unit has three bedrooms and a sizable bathroom. The continuous party wall gives excellent sound control by itself, but added sound insurance is built in by the back-to-back closet arrangement.

There are 1305 square feet of living area in the left-hand unit, 1356 square feet in the other. However, the owner might pre-

PLEASING DECEPTION . . . Unless you were told, you'd have a difficult time imagining that this charming residence was a two-family house, with separate, modern, three-bedroom units; private entrances; individual terraces and different garages.

FLOOR PLANS . . . Although a long party wall separates the two living units and terraces of this house, with only minor differences on each side, the exterior design gives a strong impression of a graceful, attractive one-family structure.

H-61 Statistics

Design H-61 is a two-family house, each unit having a living room, dining room, kitchen, terrace, three bedrooms, a bathroom, a laundry and a garage.

The overall dimensions are 60' by 48' 4", with 1305 square feet of habitable area in the left-hand unit and 1356 square feet in the right-hand unit. The garages, terraces and porches are not included in the living area measurements.

The plans call for a full basement under each unit.

ROME (AP) — The Food and Agriculture Organization says there are too many goats in the lands around the Mediterranean. They eat up everything and expose the soil to damaging erosion. FAO suggests that the number of goats be reduced sharply with payment to the farmers whose goats are taken.

Credit for decorating the first Christmas tree in the United States generally is given to a group of Hessian soldiers. It is believed that the Hessians, hired by King George III to fight the American colonists, decorated a tree at Christmastime, in keeping with Germanic traditions.

What's New Anyhow?

AP Newsfeatures
WHAT'S NEW on the market?

THE PRODUCT — A man-made material that looks and cuts like wood, but is incom-bustible, does not conduct electricity and is not affected by wood and rot. Production capacity presently limits its use as siding to the southern part of the country, but it soon will be available nationally and later will be made for many other home uses as well as for siding.

THE MANUFACTURER'S CLAIM — That this material, a combination of processed wood, asbestos fiber and cement, is preshrunk and primed before it leaves the factory, can be painted with latex or oil-based paints, can be nailed with standard siding nails without redrilling holes and will not split because it has no grain or knots.

THE PRODUCT — A new exterior latex paint designed to do away with the priming and etching of bare galvanized gutters, downspouts and eaves.

THE MANUFACTURER'S CLAIM — That the painting of bare galvanized materials can be completed in one day, since the latex acts as its own primer and can be recoated within an hour; that the new paint acts equally well on aluminum and that the only preparation necessary is to be certain that any protective layer of oil put on the galvanized steel or aluminum by the manufacturer is thoroughly wiped off.

THE PRODUCT — A four-way wiring tool that features a built-in slicer.

THE MANUFACTURER'S CLAIM — That this tool, which bears some resemblance to a pair of pliers, combines a wire cutter, a wire stripper, a terminal crimper and a bolt slicer; that the wire cutter is situated near the tip, making it easy to cut wire in cramped quarters; that a bolt is screwed into the proper-size hole to the desired length, after which only a moderate amount of hand pressure is applied, producing a clean cut without the usual burrs.

THE PRODUCT — A varnish containing special epoxy resins which give it an unusually durable surface.

THE MANUFACTURER'S CLAIM — That this varnish has a stretching ingredient which seals out dirt and moisture while protecting it against the heaviest traffic and abrasive abuse; that it will not be harmed by soaps, alcohols, fruit juices or even boiling liquids; that it prevents water spotting and rings; and that it dries in two hours.

BEFORE AND AFTER ... Look what removal of a front porch, construction of an overhang, new siding, new steps, new railing, more shrubbery, shutters and paint did to this House.

Some Bird Observations

THE activities of birds in some ways reflect the conditions of the weather. A few days back when the night-time temperatures hovered around the zero mark, the birds came freely and often to our feeders, but with the approach of milder days the trips for food became less frequent.

This may have been due to the fact that they were finding supplemental food elsewhere, or during the warmer weather to English sparrows, on the other hand, eat as greedily as ever and after they have had their fill perch in the tree and shrubs for a while and then swoop down again.

There are two pairs of cardinals that come regularly to our feeders several times each day, the same as last year. One pair has been with us for a number of years and has occasionally nested on our grounds, but as far as we have observed have never reared any young.

For a number of years a lone red-bellied woodpecker has frequented our grounds the year around, coming to the feeders regularly during the winter months. Last winter another one made its appearance and has come back again at times this year, but no further numbers of this species have been noted.

Hoffa Begins Legal Appeal In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Claiming the government committed numerous errors, lawyers for Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa begin an appeal today of his jury-tampering conviction.

The defense and the government each were allowed two hours for oral arguments in the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Hoffa's appeal is being considered along with those of three other men convicted with him last March 5 in a federal trial at Chattanooga, Tenn. All are free under bond.

The codefendants are Ewing King, former head of the Nashville, Tenn. Teamsters Local 327; Larry Campbell, Teamsters business agent for Detroit Local 299; and Thomas E. Parks of Nashville, Campbell's uncle.

Defense lawyers asked for reversals of the convictions because they said 16 broad categories of prejudicial errors were made by the Chattanooga trial judge and also on federal grand jury proceedings before the trial.

It was expected that the three-judge appeals panel would take weeks to study the arguments before deciding to uphold the convictions or set them aside.

The conviction was the first for Hoffa, 51, who heads the nation's largest labor union with 1.7 million members.

The Chattanooga jury convicted Hoffa of trying to rig a federal court jury during his 1962 conspiracy trial at Nashville, Tenn., which ended with a hung jury. He was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000 by U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson. King, Campbell and Parks were sentenced to three-year terms.

State Building Increases 13%

A 13 percent increase in the dollar volume of building permits issued in Minnesota during the first 10 months of this year, compared with the same period in 1963, has been reported by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

The total cost of new buildings, repairs and alterations for which permits were taken at reporting centers throughout the state through October this year was $453,470,648. During the first 10 months last year estimated building costs amounted to $400,962,335.

During October alone the valuation increased from $45,400,200 in 1963 to $48,539,846 this year.

For the entire Federal Reserve district served by the Minneapolis bank, this year's cumulative total was $597,281,550, up from the 1963 figure of $548,185,867. The October increase was from $63,820,406 in 1963 to $67,373,818 this year.

The following are comparative 10-month building totals for a number of Minnesota and Wisconsin cities:

Elephant Dead Of Heart Attack

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — An autopsy was scheduled today on Queen Tut, a 44-year-old elephant which died of an apparent heart attack at the Forrest Park Zoo Sunday.

The elephant, a main attraction at the zoo, was credited with saving the life of former zoo superintendent Jim Brown in 1940.

Brown was being savagely trampled by another elephant, Penny, when Queen Tut intervened and stood protectively over the critically injured man until he could be rescued. Penny was destroyed.

Holidays ARE For Studying

By L. J. NASON, Ed. D.
U. of Southern California

Ask a student why he doesn't do some independent studying and he is likely to reply:

"How can I do more? I can't even keep up with the instructor's assignments?"

But he CAN do more if he doesn't let the holiday season go to waste. Too many students let their minds be filled exclusively with thoughts of holiday trips and parties during the last few weeks of December. That's why more students drop out of school early in the year than at any other time. Rather than face school after a holiday season which they failed to utilize, they give up.

Intensive attention to independent studying during late December, when assignments usually are few, would keep many students in school, eager to tackle the classes of the new year.

Dirksen Doubts Set Policy for GOP Would Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said today he is concerned with "the problem of diffusion" that might beset a proposed Republican party policy council.

Dirksen, the Senate GOP leader, said in a telephone interview that he had been giving serious consideration to a proposal unanimously approved by 18 Republican governors and governors-elect at a Denver, Colo., meeting for establishment of a policy group on which all shades of party opinion would be represented.

Dirksen, without putting it in so many words, made it clear he believes Republicans in Congress are going to write the party's record for the 1966 elections.

He recalled that when the late Chairman Paul Butler set up a Democratic Advisory Council during the Eisenhower administration, its policy pronouncements largely were ignored by then Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

"There is the problem of diffusion of party expressions," Dirksen said. "The Republicans in Congress are going to have to decide for themselves how to vote on specific proposals. They couldn't be bound by any policy council pronouncement of the party's position."

Beyond that, Dirksen noted that congressional Republicans often have to decide quickly what stand they will take. Often, he said, they couldn't wait for a policy council to assemble and debate the issues.

3 Held for Church Blast In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Police held three men without bond today in connection with an explosive device that went off outside the Negro First Baptist church Sunday.

Although there was a large crowd of church goers, no one was injured and the church escaped damage.

The three men, arrested by a plainclothes policeman who witnessed the incident, were charged with setting off explosives in or near an inhabited building. The charge carries a maximum penalty of death in the electric chair.

Police identified the men as Henry Alexander, 35; James White, 31, and Donald Landers, 19, all of Montgomery.

The First Baptist was one of four Negro churches dynamited in Montgomery in 1957 — and one of the men arrested was among four indicted for the church bombings almost seven years ago.

Castro Aide Admits Training Red Agents

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernesto Guevara, No. 2 man in Communist Cuba, says his island nation is "not sending arms to other Latin-American countries," but he admits it has helped train subversives there.

"We have helped some Latin-American companions (comrades) acquire some military knowledge," the Cuban minister of industry told newsmen at a Columbia Broadcasting System studio Sunday after appearing on television.

Guevara predicted "there will be fighting in every country of Latin America," saying "revolutionary conditions are ripe."

"In Venezuela, Colombia and Guatemala, there is already fighting taking place," he said.

About 150 jeering Cuban exiles were held back by barricades and policemen on foot and on horseback when Guevara showed up at the studio on West 57th Street for an interview on "Face the Nation."

Vikings Miss Playoff, But Players Proud

CHICAGO (AP)—Crusty, old George Halas might have unleashed verbal venom after his Chicago Bears took a 41-14 pasting from the Minnesota Vikings Sunday.

It doomed the Bears to a 5-9 finish, the worst in his 45 years in the National Football League. Instead, Halas paid tribute to the slam-bang play of the young Vikings, who were capping a deliriously successful 8-5-1 campaign in their fourth season.

"They were playing rough out there," Halas said of the Vikings. "Real hard, two-fisted football."

When they walked off the field, the Vikings thought they might be headed for the NFL's Playoff Bowl in Miami Jan. 3. The Los Angeles Rams were leading the Green Bay Packers 24-10.

But while they sat in their chartered plane waiting for clearance to leave Chicago, the Vikings listened on a radio while the Packers rallied for a 24-14 tie which earned them the Miami trip.

Green Bay and Minnesota tied for second place in the Western Conference with identical 8-5-1 records. But the Packers won the bowl berth because they outscored the Vikings 65-37 in the clubs' two meetings this season.

"Sure it's a great disappointment," halfback Tommy Mason said, "but we did show a lot of improvement this year and we're proud."

Coach Norm Van Brocklin was proud, too. "The playoff game doesn't matter that much," he said. "When we came down to the wire and had to win, we did win. We won decisively. We kicked the Bears' fannies pretty good."

The Vikings belted the Bears for a 17-0 first quarter lead and had the game in the bag by halftime at 31-0. They led 22-9 in first downs and 432-182 in yards rushing and passing.

Once again, Boltin' Billy Brown ignited the fuse that sent the Vikings rumbling.

Brown scored three touchdowns, one on his ninth scoring pass reception of the season, rushed for 98 yards on 24 carries, and caught three passes for 128 yards.

He bolted 47 yards on one rush to set up a touchdown he scored himself on a one-yard plunge. He also caught a 64-yard pass that set up another score.

Fran Tarkenton hit Brown on a 20-yard scoring pass, and finished with 7 completions in 12 attempts for 182 yards. He tied his club record with 22 touchdown passes for the season and broke his own mark for season total completions with 171.

Mason ripped a yard and Rip Hawkins legged 29 yards with an intercepted pass for the other Viking touchdowns, while sore-backed Fred Cox booted field goals from 15 and 32 yards and added five extra points.

Cox, suffering a recurrence of a bad disc condition, had to have shots in his back and wore an ice-filled corset which numbed his back. But his kicking didn't suffer. Neither did Bobby Walden's. He punted once for 68 yards to win the NFL punt title with a 46.4 average.

Despite the disappointment of narrowly missing the Miami trip, the Vikings expressed optimism for 1965.

"We think we can start in '65 where we left off in 1964," Tarkenton said. "All the players feel this way. We think we can go all the way next year."

"We'll be shooting for 12 or 13 victories—just to make sure."

Good Old George: He Won't Retire

CHICAGO (AP)—George Halas stood straight and clear-eyed in front of his locker after watching the complete collapse of his beloved Chicago Bears.

The National Football League champions of 1963 came back this year to play out the losingest season in the team's 45-year history.

"Only seven times in 45 years have the Bears had fewer victories than defeats," Halas kept saying as though he couldn't believe it. And never before had a Bear team lost nine games in one season.

Nevertheless, Halas regained his composure and began making plans for 1965. "A season which I look forward to with great anticipation," is what Halas, a 70-year-old pioneer of the NFL, called it.

"Retire? Heavens, no," said Halas. "I couldn't retire last year because we were on top. Goodness, I can't step out now. There's too much to be done."

Somewhat shaken over Sunday's 41-14 loss to Minnesota in a game in which Johnny Morris became the last of a long list of casualties, Halas said, "Our friend pursued us right down to the end."

"Our friend" to which Halas referred was the tough luck which has dogged the Bears all season long from the training camp deaths of Willie Galimore and John Farrington in an auto accident down through the long list of injuries to key players all year.

"Right down to the end," mumbled Halas. "Rudy Bukich got it last week and Morris today."

Morris suffered a fracture of his collarbone in the second quarter against the Vikings. It prevented him from adding to his NFL season record of 93 pass receptions.

The only bright spot in the Bear loss was an 86-yard touchdown run on a kickoff by rookie Andy Livingston, a 20-year-old who was activated several weeks ago when Charlie Bivins was injured.

Livingston came to the Bear camp and asked for a tryout. Although he had never played college football, the 220-pound speedster impressed the Bears and played during the exhibition season.

1st-Half Jolt Brings Pack Back to Earth

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Green Bay Packers picked the hard way to earn another pay day—and a second straight winter "vacation" in Florida sunshine.

The Packers settled down to business at hand after a first half jolt by Los Angeles and managed a 24-14 tie with the upset-minded Rams Sunday before a crowd of 40,753 at the Coliseum.

The standoff gave Green Bay a tie with the Minnesota Vikings in the National Football League's Western Division. The Packers and Vikings finished with 8-5-1 records, but Green Bay outscored Minnesota 65-37 in two league meetings and will meet St. Louis, the Eastern Division runnerup, in the Playoff Bowl Jan. 3 at Miami.

The Packers struck for a pair of fourth period touchdowns to catch the Rams, who stung Green Bay by rolling up a 21-7 halftime lead. Jimmy Taylor, enjoying one of his finest days, capped the scoring parade by banging into the end zone from one yard out with two minutes left. Paul Hornung, who cashed only one of four field goal attempts, then booted his third extra point, tying the game.

Taylor finished with 165 yards in 17 carries against the Rams' huge defensive line. He also caught four passes for 86 yards and drew cheers from the Rams' partisan fans for his fine efforts.

Green Bay quarterback Bart Starr settled down after a shaky start in which he fumbled away the ball three times. His play-calling and on-target passing was brilliant as he directed the Packers' decisive drives.

Although rushed heavily, Starr completed 15 of 26 passes, including a five-yard payoff toss to Boyd Dowler. He ran his NFL string of passes without an interception to 225, breaking the record of 208 set by Milt Plum, now with Detroit, in 1959-60.

The Rams jolted the Packers on their third play from scrimmage. A Hornung pass on the halfback option play was intercepted at the Los Angeles seven. One play lost two yards, but Bill Munson then fired a strike to Bucky Pope who took off to complete a 95-yard touchdown play.

Moments later Starr fumbled the snap from center and the Rams recovered at the Green Bay 24. Ben Wilson capped the short drive by hanging one yard into the end zone.

Green Bay moved 87 yards in eight plays for a touchdown. Tom Moore turned right end behind good blocking for the final 10 yards.

A Starr fumble set up another Ram touchdown. Starting at the Green Bay 19, rookie Les Josephson needed only four carries to cross the goal.

Hornung, who had one field goal attempt blocked and two others sail wide, finally managed a 27-yard effort for the only points of the third period. Then Starr directed a 62-yard drive, passing on the 12th play to Dowler in the end zone.

The Packers regained possession and went 57 yards in eight plays, setting up Taylor for his touchdown.

HURDLES DENVER

Buffalo Steps Toward Crown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Buffalo Bills are one small step closer to the American Football League Eastern Division title, but there's one huge hurdle left—the Boston Patriots.

The Bills, who would have remained in the running regardless of the outcome of their game with Denver, improved their position slightly Sunday with a 30-19 victory.

That gives them an 11-2 record to Boston's 10-2-1. By beating Denver the Bills now need only a tie with the Patriots in the final game of the regular season Sunday to clinch the title and a spot in the championship game against the San Diego Chargers.

The Patriots, idle last week, beat Buffalo 36-28 earlier this season and now have a five-game winning streak going. Buffalo quarterback Daryle Lamonica was the prime mover in the Bills' triumph over Denver, passing for one touchdown and running for two.

Kansas City shocked San Diego, which had already clinched in the West, 49-6, and Houston broke a nine-game losing string 33-17 over New York in the only other AFL games scheduled.

Lamonica got the Bills started with a 46-yard touchdown pass to Ed Rutkowski, added another six points with a 23-yard scamper and clinched it with a one-yard plunge after the Broncos had pulled within four points at 23-19.

Veteran Len Dawson put on a spectacular passing display for the Chiefs in the rout of San Diego, completing 17 of 28—including his first 11-for-220 yards.

Rookie halfback Sid Blanks ran for three touchdowns for the Oilers, who handed New York its sixth straight road defeat.

Big Battles Shaping for NFL Championship Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Baltimore Colts vs. the Cleveland Browns for the National Football League championship. Johnny Unitas vs. Jimmy Brown.

The ideal test—Passing vs. Rushing.

But it's not that simple. Despite the fact that Unitas and Brown are the acknowledged leaders in their respective phases of the game each team has multiple offensive weapons and proved it in final regular seasons games.

The Browns clinched their first Eastern Division title since 1957 by crushing the New York Giants 52-20 as Frank Ryan fired five touchdown passes. Lenny Moore and Ray Berry played key roles for the Western Division champion Colts Sunday, setting records in a 45-17 romp over Washington.

Taking the three standouts from each team in those games reveals some intriguing matchups for the championship game at Cleveland, Dec. 27.

Unitas—Passed for two touchdowns and wound up the season with 158 completions, a 51 per cent accuracy mark 2,827 yards gained and 19 TD's. He had six passes intercepted. Ryan—Finished the season with 174 completions, a 52 per cent mark, 2,404 yards and 25 TD's. He had 19 passes stolen.

RUSHING

Moore—Scored two touchdowns and brought his total to 20, breaking the record set by Jim Taylor of Green Bay in 1962. Gained 584 yards during the season for a 3.7 average.

Brown—Scored one touchdown for 105 during his career, tying the record held by Green Bay's Don Hutson. Gained 1,446 yards during the season for a 5.2 average.

RECEIVING

Berry—Caught five passes for a career total of 506—three more than the record held by Bill Howton of Green Bay and Dallas. Has caught 43 passes this year for 663 yards and six TD's.

Paul Warfield—Caught five passes for total of 52 and 920 yards, scoring once for a total of nine touchdowns. Warfield is the first Brown since Mac Speedie in 1952 to catch more than 50 passes.

In addition, the teams produced two of the league's top three-point scorers with Moore winning the title with 120 points to 115 for Cleveland's Lou Groza and Jim Bakken of St. Louis.

The Cardinals, who had a shot at the Eastern title until the Browns whipped New York, edged Philadelphia 36-34 on Bakken's fifth field goal—a 19-yarder with 22 seconds remaining. St. Louis will meet Green Bay in the Playoff Bowl at Miami, Fla., Jan. 3.

The Packers tied Los Angeles 24-24 and deadlocked Minnesota for second place in the West but won the Playoff Bowl berth because they outscored the Vikings in their two meetings this season. The Vikings finished out their season with a 41-14 thumping of Chicago.

Elsewhere, Detroit defeated San Francisco 24-7 and Dallas edged Pittsburgh 17-14.

The clock-watchers at New York's Madison Square Garden were counting the seconds but Toronto's Ron Ellis was the only one who had the right time.

Ellis' punctuality, in the bizarre windup of Sunday night's Toronto-New York National Hockey League game, paid off in a last-second 3-3 deadlock that gave 15,092 Ranger fans the tick-ticks.

The Maple Leafs' rookie scored the tying goal at 19:59 of the third period, five seconds after the Garden's $50,000 scoreboard clock ran wild. The stand-off dropped New York to fifth place in the NHL race, one point behind the streaking Chicago Black Hawks and three behind the third-place Leafs.

Dennis DeJordy, Chicago's rookie goaltender, recorded his first NHL shutout as the Hawks whipped Detroit 5-0 in a penalty-packed game for their fourth straight victory.

The Montreal Canadiens, meanwhile, struck for four goals in the final period and overtook Boston 5-4, increasing their league lead to three points over the sagging Red Wings.

La Crosse Dogs Take Two of Four Stakes

La Crosse retrievers swept two of four stakes in the annual Tri-State Hunting Dog Association December Trial held at Prairie Island Sunday.

Jet, a black Labrador owned and handled by J. O. Doucet of La Crosse, topped the derby stake with Pete, a black Labrador owned and handled by Bonnie Flick taking the puppy stake.

Cincy, another black Labrador, owned and handled by John Griffin of Fort Dodge, Iowa, ran first in the open all-age stake with Ben breaking the black lab monopoly with a first in the qualifying stake.

Bean is a golden retriever owned and handled by Ben Hill of St. Paul.

Cliff Murray got Winona's highest finish with a second from Cocoa, a chocolate Labrador, in the open all-age stake.

Gyp, a golden retriever owned and handled by Bud Saffranek, received a judges' award of merit in the puppy stake.

A total of 48 dogs were entered in the trial.

WOULDN'T MIAMI VACATION HAVE BEEN BETTER?

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings each received an $857.88 bonus for tying Green Bay for second place in the Western Conference of the National Football League.

That's $122 per man more than it would have been if the Packers had beaten Los Angeles Sunday and won second place outright.

Some 2,000 fans were on hand to welcome the Vikings home at the airport Sunday night.

Eau Claire Man Wins Bub's Bowling Classic

Jim Schottle of Eau Claire, Wis., put together games of 209, 222, 255 and 212 for an 898 total to win the Bub's Bowling Classic which wound up at Winona Athletic Club Sunday.

Schottle, shooting the alleys as if he owned them, had only one open frame. That came during the first frame of his final game.

Copping second place with an 836 on games of 213, 211, 201 and 211 was Floyd Nelson of Austin.

Pete Marr got Winona's highest finish, rolling into third place with an 824, followed by city mate Gordy Fakler with 823.

The total entry showed 137 bowlers from Winona, La Crosse, La Crescent, Austin, Rochester, Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, Spring Grove, Mabel, Rushford, Chaffield, Galesville, Arcadia and Brownsdale attended.

Ches Lilla, the first-week leader with a 787 behind a 247 game, fell to 11th on the final list.

Last year's champion, Bill Zierke, who took first with an 863, placed seventh with 806.

Low pay-off was 750 compared to 751 a year ago.

1. Jim Schottle, Eau Claire 898 for 180; 2. Floyd Nelson, Austin, 836 for 180; 3. Pete Marr, Winona, 824 for 180; 4. Gordy Fakler, Winona, 823 for 180; 5. Ed Seines, Spring Grove, 815 for 180; 6.
